To the Grand Encampment

At the Triennial Conclave of the Grand Encampment held in 1907 the Committee on Templar Jurisprudence was charged with the duty of revising the Constitution and Statutes, and was directed to present its report thereon at the 31st Triennial Conclave. In accordance with this action of the Grand Encampment the Committee submitted its report at Chicago, August 9th, 10th and 11th, 1910. The report was read and with some amendments adopted section by section and finally as a whole, together with the Disciplinary Rules; Forms for constituting new Commanderies, Installation of Officers, Form of Petition for the orders, etc.

The whole report of the Committee as amended was adopted.

By resolution the members of the Committee which prepared and presented the report were instructed to arrange and prepare for publication, the newly adopted Constitution, Statutes, Rules, Forms, etc., and in connection with the Committee on Printing, have the same printed and distributed. In accordance with these instructions, we publish the following as the Constitution and Statutes of the Grand Encampment of Knights Templar of the United States of America, together with the Rules, Forms, etc., named above and the Burial Service adopted in 1904.

We call particular attention to the fact that the following are the only laws of the Grand Encampment now governing in Templar Masonry. All constitutional provisions not included in this Constitution, and all laws heretofore enacted, adopted or approved have been repealed.

SEC. 307. The uniform of a Knight of Malta shall be the same as that of a Knight Templar.

DISCIPLINARY RULES.

The following rules shall be observed in the conduct of all trials:

RULE I.

AUTHORITY OF COMMANDERIES.

Every Commandery has authority to call before it and punish according to Masonic usage and in the manner and to the extent prescribed by this Code, all Companions of the Red Cross and Knights Templar offending against Masonry, good morals and society, residing or sojourning within its jurisdiction, wherever the act may be committed.

RULE II.

COMMANDERIES U. D., NON-AFFILIATES, SUSPENDED AND EXPELLED TEMPLARS.

Members and postulates of Commanderies Under Dispensation, non-affiliates and suspended Templars are amenable to the Commandery where the act complained of is committed.

RULE III.

MEMBERS OF ANOTHER COMMANDERY.

If the accused is a member of another Commandery in the same State, it shall be the duty of the Commandery within whose jurisdiction the act complained of is committed, to prefer charges against him and to send them to his Commandery, and if the Commandery of which he is a member shall not within four months, proceed and try him for such offense, the Commandery where the act is committed shall have jurisdiction and proceed to try him as if he were a member of that Commandery, and its judgment shall have the same effect as if it were rendered by the Commandery of which he is a member.

RULE IV.

MEMBERS OF COMMANDERIES IN ANOTHER STATE.

If a member of a Commandery in another jurisdiction shall while sojourning or residing within the jurisdiction of any Commandery commit an act which would subject a member of a Commandery to trial and discipline, charges shall be made against him by the Commandery where he may be at the time the act was done, and sent to the Commandery of his membership, through the Grand Recorder, but he shall, nevertheless, be tried by the Commandery within whose jurisdiction the act was committed, the proceedings to be conducted in every essential respect as if he were a member of that Commandery and its judgment shall have the same effect. A certified copy of the judgment shall be sent under seal of the Commandery trying him, through the Grand Recorder, to the Commandery of his membership.

RULE V.

UNKNOWN COMMANDERY.

If the accused shall refuse to disclose the Commandery in which he holds membership, he shall be proceeded against and tried as if he were a non-affiliate, and the judgment shall have the same effect.

RULE VI.

DERELICT COMMANDERY.

If a Commandery within whose jurisdiction an offense shall be committed, shall neglect or refuse to proceed against an offending Templar, not a member of that Commandery, and it shall come to the knowledge of another Commandery or a Grand Officer, he or it, shall forthwith give notice thereof to the Grand Master or Grand Commander, who may either require that Commandery or another Commandery to investigate the alleged offense and proceed, as in his judgment, the welfare of the Order may require, and the judgment of the Commandery to whom the case may be referred by the Grand Master or Grand Commander, shall have the same effect as if he were a member of that Commandery.

RULE VII.

PRESIDING OFFICER.

A Commandery cannot try its Commander or an officer serving as Commander, while he continues to be the presiding officer of the Commandery. If, however, one serving as Commander shall commit an act of an immoral or un-Masonic character, for which he shall not be tried by the Grand Encampment or Grand Commandery, he may, after he ceases to serve as Commander, be tried by his Commandery, but the presiding officer of a Commandery is accountable to the Grand Encampment or Grand Commandery only, for any act performed in his official capacity; or he may be tried and disciplined by the Grand Encampment or Grand Commandery for immoral and un-Masonic conduct committed while in office, or it may refer the accusation to his Commandery for investigation, after his term of office shall have expired.

RULE VIII.

IMPEACHMENT OF COMMANDER.

If five members of his Commandery, or any Grand Officer shall impeach the Commander, or officer performing the functions of Commander, before the Grand Master or Grand Commander, he shall forthwith cause an investigation to be made of his alleged misconduct, or he may make such investigation in person, and if after such investigation, he shall find that the welfare of the Order demands the same, he may suspend such officer and place the Commandery under the control of the ranking officer. But no presiding officer shall be suspended from the functions of his office without being first given an opportunity to be heard in his defense.

If, as the result of such investigation, the Grand Master or Grand Commander shall find that the alleged misconduct is of a sufficiently grave character to warrant the offender being brought to trial by the Grand Encampment or Grand Commandery, he shall cause charges and specifications to be made and served on the accused and appoint a Grand Officer, or if it is inconvenient for a Grand Officer to attend, then a Past Commander, neither of whom shall be members of the Commandery over which the accused presides, as a Commissioner to take and reduce to writing the evidence of all persons who may have knowledge of the facts, and to procure and certify to all written evidence. And the accused and his accusers may appear in person, or by counsel, before said Commissioner and be heard, so far as may be necessary to bring out all the facts. Said Commissioner shall not pass on the competency or relevancy of evidence, nor report any conclusion, but his sole function shall be to secure and place in order the evidence for the consideration of the Grand Encampment or Grand Commandery, and when he has done so, he shall certify to and forward the record so made, to the Grand Master or Grand Commander, as the case may be.

RULE IX.

ANY ONE MAY MAKE CHARGES.

Any affiliated Knight Templar may prefer charges to the Commandery against any Companion of the Red Cross or Knight Templar.

RULE X.

CHARGES MAY BE WITHDRAWN.

Charges against a Companion of the Order of the Red Cross or Knight Templar may be withdrawn by consent of the Commandery before the commencement of the hearing thereon.

RULE XI.

NOTICE TO ACCUSED.

If Charges and Specifications are presented to the Commandery, a copy of the same shall be forthwith furnished to the accused by delivering a true copy of them to him by the Recorder, or if he shall not reside within the jurisdiction of the Commandery, then by mailing a copy to him at his usual place of residence, if his postoffice shall be known, and if not known, and if his whereabouts cannot be ascertained, after diligent inquiry, he shall so report to the Commandery, and it shall proceed as if he were served, and set a day for trial, not to be within less than ten days thereafter, and if the accused shall not appear at the time fixed, the Commandery shall appoint some competent Templar to represent him and the trial shall proceed as if personal service had been made.

The copy of the Charges and Specifications furnished to the accused shall be accompanied with a notice to the accused to the effect following:

You are fraternally notified that the accompanying Charges and Specifications against you having been presented to Commandery, a Committee, consisting of Sir, Sir, and Sir, will meet at, onday of, 19...., at o'clockM., to take the evidence of such persons as cannot be admitted into the Commandery, to testify, and you are requested to attend and cross examine such witnesses, and also to present any persons, who cannot be admitted into the Commandery, whose testimony you may desire to have read at your trial, and said hearing will be continued from day to day until all such testimony shall have been taken.

You are hereby further notified that the Commandery will proceed and try said charges and specifications at a Conclave to be held on the day of 19.... when you may be present in person, and by counsel, who must be a Knight Templar, and the evidence of witnesses who are Knights Templar, both for and against you, will be taken, and the hearing concluded.

Recorder.

RULE XII.

EVIDENCE OF OTHERS THAN KNIGHTS TEMPLAR.

On the day and at the place specified in the notice to the accused, which shall not be within ten days from the service or mailing of the same, the Committee shall proceed to examine, first the witnesses in support of the charges, and second those for the accused, who cannot be admitted into the Commandery to give their evidence, and continue from day to day, until the evidence of all persons who cannot be admitted into the Commandery is taken, but an adjournment may be taken, by agreement with the accused, to any other time or place, and by like agreement in writing, an earlier day than that named in the notice may be agreed upon.

RULE XIII.

DAY OF TRIAL.

On the day named in the notice, which shall not be in less than ten days after the charges are presented to the Commandery, the trial shall proceed, unless, for good cause shown, the Commandery may continue the same until another day.

RULE XIV.

PROSECUTION AND DEFENSE.

The Commandery must appoint a Knight Templar to prosecute the case and the accused may appear in person or by a Knight Templar as counsel, and in his absence and that of any person selected by him to conduct his defense, it shall be the duty of the Commander to appoint some competent Templar to defend him, and such appointment shall be made before any evidence is taken by the Committee.

RULE XV.

PLEA OF GUILTY.

If any one against whom charges are made shall appear, either in person or by counsel, and plead guilty, such plea shall have the effect to dispense with the necessity of taking any evidence against him, but if he introduce any evidence in mitigation of the offense it may be rebutted, after which the Commandery shall proceed as in other cases, to fix the penalty.

RULE XVI.

CHANGE OF VENUE.

If at any time before the commencement of the trial, the accused shall file with the Recorder, a verified statement that he believes that he cannot have a fair and impartial trial of the cause in the Commandery where the same is pending, the Commandery shall change the venue thereof to a Commandery in an adjoining jurisdiction, and the Commandery to which the case is venued shall proceed to and try the case, as if the same had originated therein, and the expenses, if any, of the trial, shall be charged to and paid by the Commandery having original jurisdiction; Provided, however, but one change of venue can be granted.

RULE XVII.

ACCUSER.

If charges are made by an individual, he shall have no more voice in the proceedings than any other Templar but it is the duty of every Templar to assist the Commandery in bringing the guilty to punishment, and therefore a Templar knowing a brother to be unworthy is bound to disclose the facts to the Commandery or Committee, but unless he makes the charges himself he is not to be regarded as the accuser. If, however, one presents charges in his own name or prosecutes them in a private capacity, he becomes, by so doing, the accuser and incapacitates himself to sit in judgment and must therefore be excluded from the Commandery when the Commandery is voting upon the question of guilt and fixing the penalty.

RULE XVIII.

ACCUSED IN ARREST.

Charges and Specifications may be made against anyone who is at the time charged with a violation of the laws of the land, but while proceedings are pending against him in the courts of the country they must be held in abeyance in the Commandery, except that the evidence of essential witnesses, who are likely to leave the country, or whose death is apprehended in consequence of present infirmity, may be taken by a Committee, first serving on the accused a copy of the charges and notice of the time and place.

RULE XIX.

EVIDENCE.

The evidence of Masons shall be taken upon the honor of a Mason and that of all others upon honor.

If evidence of a profane, who is beyond the reach of the Commandery is desired either in proving or disproving the charges, or of a Mason who by reason of distance, sickness or other infirmity, cannot attend at the trial, it may be taken by a Commission, to be composed of three Knights Templar to be appointed by the Commander. When the witnesses have testified the Commissioners shall certify and send the deposition to the Commander, who shall file it with the Recorder, but either party may inspect it before the trial.

The evidence of all witnesses shall be reduced to writing and signed by the witness; that taken by a Committee by them, and that taken at the trial by the Recorder, or some proper person to be designated by the Commander.

RULE XX.

GRAND OFFICER.

If a Grand Officer is sent by the Grand Master or Grand Commander or called by a Commandery to preside at a trial or adjust any differences in a Commandery he shall be paid his actual expenses by the Commandery.

If the Grand Master or Grand Commander shall find it necessary for him to attend in person to preside in any Commandery, he is authorized to draw upon the Grand Treasurer for his expenses.

RULE XXI.

WHO PRESIDES.

Ordinarily the Commander should preside at every trial, but he may call upon any Past Commander, not objected to by the Commandery or the accused, to preside for him, if he thinks that it is expedient to do so.

RULE XXII.

THE TRIAL.

At the trial the procedure shall be as follows:

1. Reading of the Charges and Specifications.
2. Plea, if any, to Charges and Specifications.
3. Examination of witnesses in support of Charges and Specifications.
4. Reading of depositions in support of Charges and Specifications.
5. Examination of witnesses for the accused.
6. Reading of depositions for the accused.
7. Rebutting evidence on either side, if any.
8. Argument in support of the Charges on behalf of the Committee and accuser, if any.
9. Argument for the accused, if any.
10. Withdrawal of the accused and accuser, if any, and all but members of the Commandery from the room.
11. Comments upon the evidence by any member, who has not previously spoken, and who is not engaged as counsel for either party.

12. The Commander shall then put the question: Is the accused guilty of the first specification? All who believe that he is will cast a black ball, and all who think he is not, will cast a white ball.

And in like manner the Commandery shall vote upon each specification and charge. The ballot box being first presented to the Commander, Generalissimo and Captain-General in succession and afterwards placed on the altar for the members to vote.

After each ballot the Commander, Generalissimo and Captain-General will announce the number of white and black balls.

If three-fourths of the balls are black, the specification or charge voted upon shall be considered as proven, and otherwise the accused shall be acquitted.

RULE XXIII.

THE PENALTY.

If any one of the charges is sustained by the requisite vote, the Commandery shall proceed in like manner by a majority vote to fix the penalty, as follows:

1. Shall the Sir Knight be expelled? All who think he should be will cast a black ball, and those who think he ought not to be, a white ball.

2. Shall the Sir Knight be indefinitely suspended? All who think he should be will cast a black ball, and those who think he ought not to be, a white ball.

3. Shall the Sir Knight be suspended for a definite period? All who think that he should be will cast a black ball, and all who think he ought not to be, a white ball.

4. Shall the Sir Knight be reprimanded? All who think he should be will cast a black ball, and all who think he ought not to be, a white ball.

If the conclusion of the Commandery is to suspend, a vote will be taken, on motion, to fix the period of suspension.

The Commandery having decided upon what sentence it will inflict, the accused will be admitted, and the result announced to him by the Commander.

RULE XXIV.

NEW TRIAL.

One new trial may, for good cause, be granted, when any Templar has been convicted of the charges against him by the Commander who presided at the trial or by the Commandery.

RULE XXV.

APPEAL.

1. The accused may, within three months after a decision has been rendered, take an appeal to the Grand Encampment or Grand Commandery by giving notice in writing to the Commander, of his desire to appeal, in which notice he shall set forth his objections to the action of the Commandery.

2. If a judgment appealed from be reversed, the Knight Templar who was under discipline is thereby restored to good standing and membership in his Commandery.

3. If on appeal the Grand Encampment or a Grand Commandery shall restore a suspended or expelled Knight Templar to good standing only, the Grand Recorder shall give a certificate to have the effect of a demit.

4. The Grand Encampment or a Grand Commandery, upon an appeal, may modify the judgment of its subordinates.

5. A Grand Commandery acting upon an appeal may admit the appellant to argue his own case, although he may have been expelled by his Commandery.

RULE XXVI.

RECORD.

When the Commander shall receive notice of an appeal being taken from the decision at a trial, he shall instruct the Recorder to forthwith make a full and perfect transcript of the record of all the proceedings, and he shall sign the same and have it forwarded, without delay to the Grand Recorder. And it shall be the duty of such Commander to inspect such record and to see that nothing is omitted therefrom which was before the Commandery at the trial, including the notice of appeal, and that the Recorder duly certifies to the same under the seal of the Commandery. And any Commander refusing or neglecting to perform this duty shall be held guilty of contumacy toward the Grand Encampment or Grand Commandery.

RULE XXVII.

NO APPEAL, NO RECORD.

Whenever a Templar shall be expelled and no appeal taken to the Grand Encampment or Grand Commandery, the Commander shall cause the Recorder to certify to the Grand Recorder the sentence, under seal of the Commandery.

RULE XXVIII.

RESTORATION.

Expulsion continues in force until removed by the Grand Encampment or Grand Commandery on appeal, but at any time before final action by the Grand Body, the Commandery may, by a three-fourths vote, rescind its action and certify the same to the Grand Body.

Restoration from indefinite suspension shall be full and complete, or limited in its effect to the general rights and privileges of the Order, not including membership. If full and complete, a unanimous vote is necessary, but if limited to the general rights and privileges, it requires but a majority vote.

Suspension takes effect from the date of its infliction by the Commandery and if for a definite period, terminates with the expiration of that period, without any further action by the Commandery. If indefinite it continues until the Commandery shall remove it, provided, that at any time before an appeal is taken, the Commandery may revise its findings and substitute suspension, definite or indefinite for expulsion.

Restoration from either expulsion or indefinite suspension shall only be made on petition in writing, of the party, setting forth the grounds upon which he petitions for clemency, which must be made at a Stated Conclave and referred to a Committee of Inquiry to report at another Stated Conclave and, if practicable, notice of the pendency of such a petition must be given to all the members. A Commandery may restore a suspended member at the hearing of such petition by a majority vote, if such restoration is limited to the general rights and privileges, but if it includes membership the vote must be unanimous.

RULE XXIX.

NO PUBLICITY.

In no case shall the judgment of the Commandery at a trial be made public unless the penalty inflicted is suspension or expulsion.

RULE XXX.

TWICE IN JEOPARDY.

No one can be placed in jeopardy twice for the same act.

RULE XXXI.

MINUTES.

The only part of a record at a trial which need to be copied into the minutes is the action of the Commandery and the charges and specifications. Evidence and papers read shall not be set forth in full, but a separate record is to be made of all proceedings at a trial, and when there in an appeal, the original record may be used and certified to.

TRIAL

GRAND ENCAMPMENT OR GRAND COMMANDERY.

RULE XXXII.

IMPEACHMENT OF GRAND OFFICER.

Whenever a Grand Officer shall be impeached like proceedings shall be had as in case of the presiding officer of a Commandery, except that the record shall be submitted direct to the Grand Body, and the hearing shall be had therein, before which the accused and his accusers may appear in person or by counsel.

RULE XXXIII

NO JUDGMENT BY DEFAULT.

In no case shall there be a judgment by default, but in all cases trials must be had on the evidence or record submitted.

CONSTITUTING NEW COMMANDERIES.

The Sir Knights about to be constituted will assemble in their Asylum.

The Triangle should be placed near the center of the hall, the tapers not lighted. The Bible and relics on the Triangle should be covered.

The Grand Commandery, or constituting officers of the same, having met and made due preparatory arrangements in an adjoining room, will march to the Commandery hall, where they should be received with the proper salute, and assume their stations.

The Grand Commander, or officer in charge, will then cause the service to commence, by the rendering of an appropriate hymn or chant. Then may follow the reading of a Scripture lesson by the Grand Prelate. (Micah vii., 8-12, is suggested for such a lesson.) Prayer shall then be offered by the Grand Prelate, all standing and uncovered.

PRAYER.

Almighty and ever-blessed God, our Father, with whom is our life, and from whom cometh every good and perfect gift, unto Thee we bow our hearts in reverence and in trust, gratefully acknowledging all Thy mercies and the manifold manifestations of Thy providence and Thy truth. And now, as we engage in the solemn service of this occasion, we beseech Thy blessed help and direction, that all things may be done to Thy glory and to the advancements of the interests we have in charge. Let Thy grace be poured upon these, Thy servants, about to be constituted into an organization founded upon the Christian religion and the practice of the Christian virtues. Give unto them a large appreciation of the mission to which they are called, and an earnest purpose to perform the duties which will henceforth devolve upon them in connection with this new organization. Enlighten their minds, purify their hearts, and help them to attain such true consecration of soul that they may indeed bear much fruit to the honor and glory of Thy holy Name. May they be true to the pledges that they have taken as members of this Institution, true to the example and teachings of the Great Captain of their salvation, that so they may be met at the last with the welcome, "Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." All this we ask, most merciful Father, through Him who is the Resurrection and the Life, our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen.

All resume chapeaux, after which the "Gloria Patri" may be rendered.

The Deputy Grand Commander, at the base of the Triangle, will then address the Grand Commander as follows:

Right Eminent Sir, a constitutional number of Knights of the Valiant and Magnanimous Order of the Temple, duly instructed in the sublime mysteries of our Order, having received from the proper authority a Charter authorizing them to hold a regular Commandery of Knights Templar, are now assembled for the purpose of being legally constituted, and having their officers installed in due form.

Grand Commander—Let the Charter be read.

The Grand Recorder reads the Charter.

The Sir Knights will stand at "present swords" whilst the Grand Commander makes the following

DECLARATION OF CONSTITUTION.

By virtue of the high power and authority in me vested, I do now form you, Sir Knights, into a just and regular Commandery of Knights Templar, by the distinctive title of ————— Commandery; and you are henceforth authorized and empowered to form and open a Council of Companions of the Red Cross, a Commandery of Knights Templar, and a Priory of Knights of Malta, and to perform all such things as may appertain to the same; conforming in all your doings to the Laws and Regulations of the Grand Commandery under whose authority you act, and to the Constitution, Laws and Edicts of the Grand Encampment of the United States of America. And may the God of our fathers be with you, guide and direct you in all your undertakings.

The Grand Wardens will now uncover the jewels on the Triangle, whilst the choir shall chant the Fifteenth Psalm, or some other appropriate selection. The Grand Commander will then cause the Sir Knights to be assembled about the Triangle, and the Grand Prelate may then read the Apostle's Creed, as follows:

I believe in God the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and Earth:

And in Jesus Christ His only Son our Lord; Who was conceived by the Holy Ghost, Born of the Virgin Mary; Suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, dead and buried; He descended into hell, The third day He arose again from the dead; He ascended into heaven, And sitteth on the right hand of God the Father Almighty; From thence He shall come to judge the quick and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Ghost, the Holy Catholic Church, The Communion of Saints; The Forgiveness of sins; The Resurrection of the body; And the Life everlasting. Amen.

Grand Commander—Sir Knight Grand Prelate, you will now pronounce the words of consecration:

Grand Prelate—To our Most Eminent and Worthy Patron, St. John the Almoner, I do now solemnly dedicate this Commandery, by the name and title of ————— Commandery; and may the God of all grace abundantly bless it and all its members in their laudable undertaking, and may each one of its members so redeem his time that he will receive the joyful invitation, "Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." Glory to God in the highest, and on earth, peace, good will toward men.

Response by all the Sir Knights :

As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Then may follow the "Gloria in Excelsis," or "Te Deum Laudamus," by the choir, after which, by order of the Grand Commander, the Grand Marshal makes the following proclamation :

GRAND MARSHAL'S PROCLAMATION.

Hear ye! hear ye! hear ye! Valiant Knights of the Temple!

I am ordered to proclaim that this new Commandery of Knights Templar, by the name of _____ Commandery, has been legally constituted according to the forms and ceremonies of the Order of Knights Templar; and that it is now authorized to meet and work as a regular Commandery under the jurisdiction of the Grand Commandery of _____.

This proclamation is from the East, once (a blast on trumpet), twice (trumpet), thrice (trumpet). All interested will take due notice, and govern themselves accordingly.

The new Commandery will now be opened in due form, and proceed to the election of officers, the instituting officer presiding.

(If the Grand Commandery has assembled for consecration services only, the Sir Knights will be formed in two divisions, inward faced; the Grand Officers then retire, passing under an arch of steel, escorted by the Commander, Generalissimo, and Captain-General, preceded by the Warder, to entrance of Asylum.)

The Commandery having been duly constituted, the officers are to be installed with the following ceremony:

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS OF A COMMANDERY.

The Grand Officers having been duly received and escorted to their respective stations, the Grand Commander states the purpose of the occasion, and calls upon the Grand Prelate to lead in devotional exercises. A Scripture lesson should be read, and prayer offered. If a choir is present, an appropriate selection of music may be given.

The Grand Marshal receives from the Recorder a list of the officers-elect, and retires with them to Ante Room; forms them in line according to official rank—swords at a carry—Commander on right.

An altar should be placed before the Grand Commander, with Holy Bible opened, and Square, Compasses, Cross Swords, Jewels, Charter, Constitution of Grand Encampment, Statutes, and Regulations of Grand Commandery, and By-Laws of Commandery resting thereon. The Banners of the Commandery to be displayed from the Commander's station.

The Grand Marshal announces officers elect. The Grand Commander orders the Sir Knights to form in two divisions—swords at a carry—at open order, full width of Asylum, and inward faced.

GRAND MARCH.

Grand Marshal escorts officers-elect into Asylum, halts and faces them before Grand Commander, right resting on South. Commander is placed in center, and three paces in front of officers-elect.

The Grand Marshal will command, Present Swords! and saluting the presiding officer will report, Right Eminent Sir, I present to you for installation the officers duly chosen.

Installing Officer: Sir Knights, before engaging in these important ceremonies, let us unite with our Excellent Prelate in an invocation to Deity, Carry Swords! Order Swords! Uncover! Excellent Prelate, lead our devotions.

(The Prelate offers an appropriate prayer ending with the Lord's Prayer, in which all join.)

Installing Officer: Sir Knights, Recover! Carry Swords! Sir Knight Marshal, present the Commander elect.

The Grand Marshal says:

Right Eminent Sir: I have the honor to present to you, Sir Knight ————, who has been elected to the office of Commander of this Commandery. I find him to be well skilled in our sublime mysteries, and observant of the noble precepts of our forefathers, and have, therefore, no doubt that he will discharge the important duties of his office with fidelity.

The Grand Commander then asks: "Sir Knight, are you ready to subscribe to the vow of office?" On his answering in the affirmative, the Grand Commander will draw his sword, and hold it horizontally, the edge toward the Commander-elect, who will place his right hand on the blade, and uncover with his left hand.

The Grand Marshal says: Commandery, Present Swords!

The Installing Officer says: Repeat after me,

I, ————, do promise and vow that I will support and maintain the Constitution, Laws and Rituals of the Grand Encampment of Knights Templar of the United States of America; and the Constitution, Laws and Regulations of the Grand Commandery of this Jurisdiction; and the By-Laws of this Commandery; and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office to which I have been chosen to the best of my ability.

Grand Marshal will say: Carry Swords! Parade Rest!

The Grand Commander will then address the Commander-elect as follows:

Eminent Sir: Having been elected to the important and honorable station of Commander of this Commandery, it is with unfeigned pleasure that I enter upon the discharge of the duty of installing you into office. As the head of a Christian institution you are charged with important responsibilities and duties, and it is confidently anticipated that your fidelity to these trusts will reflect honor upon yourself, and credit upon your Commandery. It now becomes my duty to propose certain questions to you, to which unequivocal answers are required:

I. Do you solemnly promise, upon the honor of a Knight Templar, that you will redouble your endeavors to correct the vices, purify the morals, and promote the happiness of those of your brethren who have attained to this magnanimous Order?

II. That you will never suffer your Commandery to be opened unless there be present nine regular Knights of the Order?

III. That you will not confer the Orders upon any one who has not shown a charitable and humane disposition, or who has not made a considerable proficiency in the preceding degrees?

IV. That you will promote the general good of the Order, and on all proper occasions be ready to give and receive instructions, particularly from the Grand Officers?

V. That, to the utmost of your power you will preserve the solemnities of our ceremonies, and behave, in open Commandery, with the most profound respect and reverence, as an example to your brethren?

VI. That you will not acknowledge or hold communication with any Commandery that does not work under a Constitutional Dispensation or Charter?

VII. That you will not admit any visitor into your Commandery who has not been knighted in a lawful Commandery, without his being first formally healed?

VIII. That you will pay due respect and obedience to the instructions of the Grand Officers, particularly relating to the several lectures and charges, and will resign the chair to them, severally, when they may visit your Commandery?

IX. That you will support and maintain the Constitution and Laws of the Grand Encampment, and the Constitution, Laws and Regulations of the Grand Commandery under whose authority you act?

X. That you will bind your successor in office to the observance of the same rules to which you have now assented?

Do you submit to all these things And do you promise to observe and practice them faithfully?

If the Commander responds affirmatively, the Grand Commander then addresses him as follows:

Eminent Sir: Having been chosen by the members of your Commandery to fill the most exalted position in their power to bestow, I congratulate you upon being the recipient of such honorable preferment, and now invest you with the jewel of your office, which is a cross surrounded by rays of light. It is to remind you that humility, love, and pure benevolence are refulgent rays that emanate from the pure and undefiled religion of the blessed Emanuel, and which should ever characterize the members of this Christian Order. It is to remind you of Him who died that He might give life to the world, and who is indeed the Lord and Saviour of all those who accept His guidance and obey His precepts.

I present you the Charter of your Commandery. You will receive it as a sacred deposit, and never permit it to be used for any other purposes than those expressed in it, and safely transmit it to your successor in office.

I also commit to your hands the Holy Bible, the great light in every degree of Masonry, together with the Cross Swords. The doctrines contained in this sacred volume create in us a belief in the existence of the Eternal Jehovah, the one only living and true God, the Creator and Judge of all things in heaven and earth; they also confirm in us a belief in the dispensations of His providence. This belief strengthens our Faith, and enables us to ascend the first step of the Grand Masonic ladder. This faith naturally produces in us a Hope of becoming partakers in the promises expressed in this inestimable gift of God to man, which Hope enables us to ascend the second step; but the third and last, being Charity, comprehends the former, and will continue to exert its influence when Faith shall be lost in sight, and Hope ends in complete fruition. The Cross Swords, resting upon the Holy Bible are to remind us that we should be "strong in the Lord and in the power of His might"; that we should put on the whole armor of God, to be able to wrestle successfully against principalities and powers, and spiritual wickedness in high places.

I also present you with the Constitution of the Grand Encampment of the United States of America, the Constitution, Laws and Regulations of the Grand Commandery of this State, and the By-Laws of your Commandery. You will frequently consult them yourself, and cause them to be read for the information of your Commandery, that all, being informed of their duty, may have no reasonable excuse to offer for the neglect of it.

And now, Eminent Sir, permit me to induct you into the chair of your Commandery, and, in behalf of the Sir Knights here assembled, to offer you my most sincere congratulations on your accession to the honorable station you now fill. It will henceforth be your special duty to preserve, inviolate, the Constitution and Laws of the Order; to dispense justice, reward merit, encourage truth, and diffuse the sublime principles of universal benevolence. You will distribute alms to poor and weary pilgrims traveling from afar, feed the hungry, clothe the naked, and bind up the wounds of the afflicted. You will inculcate the duties of Charity and hospitality, and govern your Commandery with justice and moderation.

And finally, my brother, may the bright example of the illustrious heroes of former ages, whose matchless valor has shed undying lustre over the name of Knight Templar, encourage and animate you to the faithful performance of every duty.

Grand Marshal: Commandery, Attention! Carry Swords! Present Swords!

Installing Officer: Sir Knights, behold your Commander. Recollect, Sir Knights, that the prosperity of your Commandery will as much depend on your support, assistance and obedience, as on the assiduity, fidelity and wisdom of your Commander. Be ye, therefore, diligent and faithful in the performance of your respective duties.

Grand Marshal orders:

Sir Knights! Carry Swords! Officers-elect, Return Swords!

If the new Commander desires to offer any remarks this is the appropriate time.

Then may follow a chant or appropriate hymn by the choir.

The Grand Marshal then presents the other officers in the following words: Right Eminent Sir: I have the further honor of presenting to you, for installation, these valiant Sir Knights who have been chosen to fill the various offices in this Commandery for the ensuing year, and now declare themselves ready to enter upon the duties of their respective stations.

The Grand Commander addresses the officers-elect as follows:

Sir Knights: Before proceeding to invest you with the honor and responsibility of your respective stations, it becomes my duty to administer to you the vow of office. Do you severally consent to take upon yourselves that vow?

They bow in token of assent.

Installing Officer: Sir Knight Grand Marshal, you will place the officers-elect in proper position.

Grand Marshal: Officers-elect count twos! number one, Draw Swords! Point Swords to the left! number two, Grasp blade with right hand! Uncover!

Grand Marshal then says:

Right Eminent Sir: The officers chosen are in proper position to take upon themselves the vow of office.

Grand Marshal, turning to the Commandery, orders: Commandery, Attention! Present swords!

Installing Officer: Officers-elect, repeat after me:

VOW OF OFFICE.

I, —————, do promise and vow that I will support and maintain the Constitution, Laws and Rituals of the Grand Encampment of Knights Templar of the United States of America, the Constitution, Laws and Regulations of the Grand Commandery of this jurisdiction, and the By-Laws of this Commandery, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office to which I have been chosen to the best of my ability.

Grand Marshal orders: Officers-elect, Recover!

Numbers two—Relinquish sword blade! Numbers one—Carry swords! Return swords! Grand Marshal addressing the Commandery, orders: Commandery! Carry swords! Return swords! Be seated.

Grand Marshal conducts the Generalissimo first, then the remaining officers, according to rank, to the Altar, before the Grand Commander, introducing each by his title, and designating the office to which he has been chosen. The Grand Commander will receive each of these officers with fitting words, calling attention to their official duties and charging them to faithfulness in discharging the same. He will also invest these officers with their respective jewels, and direct them to their respective stations.

[The following are suggested as appropriate charges:]

CHARGE TO THE GENERALISSIMO.

Sir: You have been elected Generalissimo of this Commandery. I now invest you with the jewel of your office, which is a Square, surmounted by a Paschal Lamb. When beholding the Lamb, let it stimulate you to have at all times, a watchful eye over your own conduct, and an earnest solicitude for the prosperity of the kingdom of the blessed Emanuel, the spotless Lamb of God, who was slain from the foundation of the world.

The Square is to remind you that love and friendship should forever govern the members of Freemasonry and of the Orders of Knighthood. Your station is on the right of your Commander; you are to assist him in his various duties; and, in his absence, to preside. I charge you, therefore, to be faithful to the Sir Knights with whom you are associated; put them often in remembrance of those things which tend to their everlasting peace. Finally, "preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long-suffering and doctrine": ever remembering the promise, "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life."

CHARGE TO THE CAPTAIN-GENERAL.

Sir: You have been elected Captain-General of this Commandery. I now invest you with the jewel of your office, which is a Level, surmounted by a Cock. As the undaunted courage and valor of the Cock stimulates him to conquer his competitor, or yield himself a victim to the contest, so should you be stimulated to the discharge of every duty. You should have on "the breastplate of righteousness," so that with patience and meekness you may ever travel on the level of humility, and be so supplied with divine grace as to prevent you from selling your God or denying your Master. Your station is on the left of your Commander. Your duty, among other things, is to see that due preparation is made for the various Conclaves of the Commandery; that the Chambers and Asylum are in suitable array for the introduction of candidates, and the dispatch of business. You are also to receive and communicate to the lines all orders issued by the Commander. You are to assist in Council, and, in the absence of your Commander and Generalissimo you are to preside over the Commandery. And now, I exhort you, that with fidelity you perform every duty; and, "whatsoever ye do, do heartily as to the Lord, and not unto men: continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving;" ever bearing in mind the promise, "Be not weary in well-doing, for in due season ye shall reap if ye faint not."

CHARGE TO THE SENIOR WARDEN.

Sir: You have been elected Senior Warden of this Commandery. I now invest you with the jewel of your office, which is the Hollow Square and Sword of Justice. It is to remind you that as the children of Israel marched in a hollow square in their journey through the wilderness, in order to guard and protect the Ark of the Covenant, so should you be vigilant in guarding every avenue from innovation and error. Let the Sword of Justice, therefore, be ever drawn to guard the Constitution of the Order. Your station is at the southwest angle of the Triangle, and upon the right of the first division. You will attend pilgrim warriors, comfort and support pilgrim penitents, and, after due trial, introduce them into the Asylum. Let it be your constant care that the warrior be not deterred from duty, nor the penitent molested on his journey. Finally, "Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven."

CHARGE TO THE JUNIOR WARDEN.

Sir: You have been elected Junior Warden of this Commandery. I now invest you with the jewel of your office, which is an Eagle and Flaming Sword. It is to remind you to perform your various duties with justice and valor, having an eagle eye on the prosperity of the Order. Your station is at the northwest angle of the Triangle, and on the left of the third division. Your duty is to attend weary pilgrims traveling from afar, conduct them on their journey, plead their cause, and, in due time, recommend them to the Commander. You will be careful that, in addition to the pilgrim's garb, sandals, staff, and scrip, their whole preparation and deportment shall be such as to cause them to be recognized as children of humility. Teach them that "Magna est Veritas et Praevalebit" is the motto of our Order; although they will often find the heights of fortune inaccessible, and the thorny path of life crooked, adverse, and forlorn, yet by faith and humility—courage and constancy—patience and perseverance—they may gain admission into the Asylum above, there to enjoy the rewards that await the valiant soldiers of the Lord Jesus Christ. Finally, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord that you may be a shining light in the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid.

CHARGE TO THE PRELATE.

Sir: You have been elected Prelate of this Commandery. I have the pleasure of investing you with this Triple Triangle, which is the jewel of your office, and a beautiful emblem of Deity. Your station is on the right of the Generalissimo. Your duty is to officiate at the Altar, and to offer up prayers to Jehovah. Your jewel is to remind you of the importance of the trust reposed in you; and may "He who is able, abundantly furnish you for every good work, preserve you from falling into error, improve, strengthen, establish and perfect you," and finally greet you with "Well done, thou good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

CHARGE TO THE TREASURER.

Sir: You have been elected Treasurer of this Commandery. I now invest you with the jewel of your office. Your station is on the right of the Generalissimo, in front. The qualities which should recommend a Treasurer are accuracy and fidelity—accuracy in keeping a fair and minute account of all receipts and disbursements; fidelity, in carefully preserving all the property and funds of the Commandery that may be placed in his hands, and rendering a just account of the same whenever he is called upon for that purpose. I presume that your respect and attachment to the Commandery, and your earnest solicitude for a good name, which is better than precious ointment, will prompt you to the faithful discharge of the duties of your office.

CHARGE TO THE RECORDER.

Sir: You have been elected Recorder of this Commandery. I now invest you with the jewel of your office. Your station is on the left of the Captain-General, in front. The qualities which should recommend a Recorder are: promptitude in issuing the notifications and orders of his superior officers; punctuality in attending the Conclaves of the Commandery; correctness in recording their proceedings; judgment in discriminating between what is proper and what is improper to be committed to writing; integrity in accounting for all moneys that may pass through his hands, and fidelity in paying the same over to the Treasurer. The possession of these good qualities, I presume, has designated you for this important office, and I cannot entertain a doubt that you will discharge its duties beneficially to the Commandery and honorably to yourself. And when you shall have completed the record of your transactions here below, and finished the term of your probation, may you be admitted into the celestial Asylum of saints and angels, and find your name recorded in the Lamb's Book of Life.

CHARGE TO THE STANDARD BEARER.

Sir: You have been chosen Standard Bearer of this Commandery. I now invest you with the jewel of your office, which is a Plumb, surmounted by a Banner. Your station is in the West, and in the center of the second division. Your duty is to display, support, and protect the Banner of our Order which I now, with pleasure, confide to your valor. You will remember that it is our rallying point in time of danger; and when unfurled in a just and virtuous cause, you will never relinquish it to an enemy but with your life. Let, therefore, your conduct be such as all the virtuous will delight to imitate; let the refulgent rays, which ever emanate from pure benevolence and humility, diffuse their luster on all around, that it may encourage and animate all true and courteous Knights, and, at the same time, confound and dismay all their enemies.

CHARGE TO THE SWORD BEARER.

Sir: You have been chosen Sword Bearer of this Commandery. I now invest you with the jewel of your office, which is a Triangle and Cross Swords. Your station is on the right of the Standard Bearer and on the right of the second division. Your duty is to assist in protecting the Banner of our Order, with a heart devoted to the principles of Faith, Hope and Charity. Holding the mystic sword that is endowed with justice and fortitude, and tempered with mercy, you may cast your eyes upon the Banner, and remember that "In Hoc Signo Vinces" is an expressive motto of our Order, and consoling to the heart of every believer.

CHARGE TO THE WARDER.

Sir: You have been chosen Warder of this Commandery. I now invest you with the jewel of your office, which is a Square Plate with a Trumpet and Cross Swords engraved thereon. Your station is on the left of the Standard Bearer and upon the left of the second division, when separately formed. Your duty is to sound the Assembly, announce the approach and departure of the Eminent Commander, to post the sentinels, and see that the Asylum is duly guarded. You will, also, report all petitions from visitors and strangers. I charge you to be punctual in your attendance, and indefatigable in the discharge of your important duties for though yours is among the last offices in the Commandery, it is by no means the least important.

CHARGE TO THE THREE GUARDS.

Sir Knights: You have been chosen Guards. I now invest you with the jewel of your office, which is a Square Plate with a Battle Ax engraved thereon. Your posts are those of honor as well as danger. You will, therefore, be vigilant, challenge with spirit, examine with caution, admonish with candor, relieve cheerfully, protect with fidelity, and fight valiantly.

CHARGE TO THE SENTINEL.

Sir: You have been chosen Sentinel of this Commandery, and I invest you with the jewel of your office, which is a Square Plate with a Battle Ax engraved thereon, and this implement of your office. As the sword is placed in the hands of the Sentinel to enable him effectually to guard against the approach of cowans and eavesdroppers, and suffer none to pass or repass but such as are duly qualified, so it should morally serve as a constant admonition to set a guard at the entrance of our thoughts, to place a watch at the door of our lips, to post a sentinel at the avenue of our actions, thereby excluding every unqualified and unworthy thought, word and deed, and preserving consciences void of offense toward God and toward man.

As the first application from visitors for admission into the Commandery is generally made to the Sentinel at the door, your station will often present you to the observation of strangers; it is, therefore, essentially necessary that he who sustains the office with which you are entrusted, should be a man of good morals, steady habits, strict discipline, temperate, affable, and discreet. I trust that a just regard for the honor and reputation of the institution will ever induce you to perform with fidelity the trust reposed in you, and when the door of this earthly tabernacle shall be closed, may you find an abundant entrance, through the gates, into the temple and city of our God.

The presiding officer then delivers the following

CHARGE TO THE COMMANDERY.

Sir Knights: To manage and conduct the concerns of a Commandery of Knights Templar with that promptitude, integrity, and skill which the institution demands, will require the exercise of all the talents and perseverance of its officers and members. Are any of you solicitous that your equals and inferiors should conduct themselves toward you with deference and respect? Be sure to let no opportunity pass without furnishing them an example in your own conduct. The officers will recollect that those moral and religious duties and precepts which they, from time to time, so forcibly impress upon the minds of others, should by no means be neglected by themselves, and the most effectual way to insure success is to let precept and example go hand in hand.

I would, therefore, exhort one and all to look well to the East, to the West, to the North, and to the South, and see that the entering avenues are strictly guarded, and that you suffer no one to pass the threshold of your Asylum but the worthy children of humility, and, at the same time, that you suffer no one to walk among you disorderly without admonition or reproof. While such is the conduct of the officers and members, you may rest assured that this valiant, magnanimous Order will forever flourish like the green bay tree. And now, Sir Knights, I would address you in the language of David to his beloved city: "Peace be within thy walls, and prosperity within thy palaces! For my brethren and companions' sake, I will now say, Peace be within thee!"

The Grand Marshal will then say: Commandery, Attention! Draw swords! Present swords! He will then make the OFFICIAL PROCLAMATION.

Hear ye! hear ye! hear ye! Valiant Knights of the Temple! In the name of the Grand Commandery of the State of I hereby proclaim that the officers of Commandery, No., Knights Templar, have been duly installed into their respective stations for the ensuing Templar year, and the Commandery is now constitutionally organized for the dispatch of business. This proclamation is made to the North (one blast on trumpet), to the South (one blast), to the East (one blast), to the West (grand flourish on trumpet). All true and courteous Knights will take due notice thereof, and govern themselves accordingly.

Grand Marshal: Carry swords! Return swords! Be seated!

The choir may then chant the "Te Deum Laudamus," or render some other appropriate musical selection.

The Grand Commandery may then retire with a proper escort, and the Commandery will proceed with the regular order of business.

INSTALLATION SERVICE FOR GRAND COMMANDERIES.

At the time selected for the ceremony of installation, the acting Grand Commander shall take his place as presiding officer, and select some competent Sir Knight to act as Grand Marshal, under whose direction the officers-elect will retire to an adjoining room. The jewels of office should be placed on the Altar in front of the installing officer. The Grand Commander will then direct the Grand Marshal to introduce the Grand Officers-elect, and display them by single line, facing the East, in the order of their official rank, the Grand Commander on the right.

The Grand Marshal will then say:

Right Eminent Sir, I present before you these Sir Knights, who, having been duly elected officers of this Grand Commandery for the ensuing year, are now ready to enter upon the duties of their several stations.

Then, all standing, the Grand Commander will say:

Sir Knights: Before investing you with the jewels of your respective official positions, it becomes my duty to receive from you the vow of office. Are you willing to take such vow?

They bow in token of assent.

The Grand Marshal will then cause each Sir Knight in the line of officers-elect occupying the odd numbers from the right of the line to draw his sword dropping it to the left to a horizontal position. The Sir Knight on his left will lay his left hand upon the sword, then each will place his right hand upon his left breast, and repeat after the Grand Commander the following

VOW OF OFFICE.

I, do promise and vow that I will support and maintain the Constitution, Laws and Rituals of the Grand Encampment of Knights Templar of the United States of America, the Constitution, Laws and Regulations of the Grand Commandery of this Jurisdiction, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office to which I have been chosen to the best of my ability.

The Grand Marshal will then conduct the Grand Commander-elect to the front of the Altar, and, addressing the presiding officer, will say:

Right Eminent Sir: I present to you Sir Knight, who has been elected to the office of Grand Commander of Knights Templar of this jurisdiction, and who now declares himself ready for installation.

The presiding officer will then say:

Sir Knights, Attention! Uncover! Let us unite with our Grand Prelate in an invocation to the Throne of Grace.

The Grand Prelate will then offer an appropriate prayer.

The Sir Knights will then be covered, and the presiding officer will deliver to the Grand Commander the following CHARGE.

Right Eminent Sir: Having been called by the members of this Grand Body to fill the highest office in their gift, I congratulate you upon having received such high honor at their hands, and I now invest you with the jewel of your office.

Having placed the jewel on the left breast of the Grand Commander, he continues:

The high honors of your office are accompanied by weighty responsibilities. While your authority will at all times be respected, and your orders cheerfully obeyed, it is expected that you will have a watchful care over the interests of the Order in your jurisdiction, and enforce a prompt obedience to its Constitution, Laws and Regulations; that you will yourself exemplify, in your daily walk and conversation, the excellent tenets of our profession; that your ears will never be closed to the cry of the widow and the orphan; and that you will not turn aside from injured innocence and the wayfaring brother in distress. Maintain with unfailing care the Constitution, Laws and Regulations of this Grand Body, and by your own respect for law cause others to find a strong incentive to obedience of all lawful requirements.

Right Eminent Sir: Approach the East. Sir Knights, Attention! Behold your Grand Commander! Grand Commander, behold your Grand Commandery!

The Grand Commandery will now be seated, and should the new Grand Commander desire to offer any remarks, this is the appropriate time.

The Grand Marshal will then present the remaining Grand officers for installation, which work may be done by the Grand Commander, or the officer previously officiating. In either case, the officers to be installed shall be charged to the faithful performance of the duties of their respective positions, and shall be invested with the jewels thereto attached.

Due proclamation shall then be made by the Grand Marshal as follows :

Hear ye! hear ye! hear ye! Valiant Knights of the Temple! The Officers of the Grand Commandery of, for the year ensuing have been duly installed into their respective stations. This proclamation is made to the North (one blast on trumpet), to the South (one blast), to the East (one blast), and to the West (grand flourish on trumpet). All true and courteous Knights will take due notice thereof, and govern themselves accordingly.

If desired, appropriate music may be used during the ceremony.

INSTALLATION SERVICE FOR GRAND ENCAMPMENT.

At the time designated for the ceremony of installation, the officers-elect shall be placed in due position before the retiring Grand Master, or some officer designated to take his place in the performing of the service of installation, who shall administer to them the following

VOW OF OFFICE.

I,, do promise and vow that I will support and maintain the Constitution, Laws and Rituals of the Grand Encampment of Knights Templar of the United States of America, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties belonging to the office to which I have been chosen to the best of my ability.

Prayer may then be offered.

The presiding officer may then address the Grand Master and those associated with him in office, calling attention to the work and responsibility which devolve upon them, and giving to them a special charge that they shall exercise a careful supervision of the affairs and interests of the Order, and be diligent in their several exalted stations to exemplify the graces of Christian Knighthood.

He shall then cause proclamation to be made that the officers have been duly installed.

BURIAL SERVICE OF THE ORDERS OF MASONIC KNIGHTHOOD

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

1. No Knight Templar can be buried with the funeral honors of Knighthood, unless he be in regular standing.

2. An unaffiliated Knight is not entitled to Templar honors; but the Commandery may grant them, or it may withhold them, without breach of Knightly duty.

3. It is the duty of the Eminent Commander to convene the Commandery, upon notice of the death of a Sir Knight who may be entitled to receive funeral honors, upon request, made when living or by his family after his decease, for the purpose of attending the funeral ceremonies.

4. The Knights, on such occasions, will attend in full uniform, pursuant to the regulations, their sword-hilts and the banner of the Commandery being suitably dressed in mourning.

In unpleasant weather the fatigue uniform may be worn.

5. On the coffin of the deceased Knight will be placed his hat and sword; and, if an officer, his jewel, trimmed with crape.

6. The Eminent Commander will preside during the services, and, assisted by the Prelate, lead in the ceremonies, pursuant to the ritual. If Grand Officers or Past Grand Officers be present, they will be allotted a place in the procession according to their rank.

7. The Sir Knights will assemble at their Asylum, and march to the residence of the deceased in the usual order of processions; the line being headed by the Warder, and the officers being in the rear, according to rank; that is, the Eminent Commander last; but if a Grand Prelate be present, he shall take the place of the Prelate of the Commandery.

On arriving at the house, the lines are opened and the Eminent Commander passes to the front and receives the body, placing the hat and sword on the coffin.

8. The procession is then formed as before; the body, with the mourners and citizens present, being in the rear of the Sir Knights. If the services are to be performed at a church or other place of public assembly, the procession on arriving will enter in reversed order, the Eminent Commander and Prelate preceding the body and mourners.

9. On arrival at the cemetery, the Captain-General will place the Commandery as may be convenient according to the conformation of the ground. When practical, it is recommended that the Commandery be formed in two lines, one each side of the grave, the Commander and Prelate at the head, pall-bearers beside the coffin, and mourners and friends at the foot.

10. When the public or religious services are concluded, six Sir Knights, as a guard of honor will form arch of steel over the body, the Eminent Commander with the Prelate being at the head of the coffin and the Senior and Junior Wardens at the foot.

11. Nearly all the Funeral Service of Knighthood is generally performed at the house of the deceased, at a church or at some place of public assembly. It may, however, be deferred till at the grave, but is not recommended. It will be conducted according to the following ritual:

All being in readiness—

Choir renders an appropriate selection.

RITUAL.

Eminent Commander. Sir Knights, in the solemn rites of our Order, we have often been reminded of the great truth that we were born to die. Mortality has been brought to view, that we might more earnestly seek an immortality beyond this fleeting life, where death can come no more forever. The sad and mournful funeral knell has betokened that another spirit has winged its flight to a new state of existence. An alarm has come to the door of our Asylum, and the messenger was Death; and none presumed to say to the awful presence, "Who dare approach?" A pilgrim warrior has been summoned, "and there is no discharge in that war." A burning taper of life in our Commandery has been extinguished, and none save the High and Holy One can relight it.

All that remains of our beloved companion Sir Knight lies mute before us, and the light of the eye, and the breathing of the lips, in their language of fraternal greeting, has ceased for us forever on this side of the grave. His sword, vowed only to be drawn in the cause of truth, justice and rational liberty, reposes in its scabbard, and our arms can no more shield him from wrong or oppression.

[Here the Guard of Honor return swords at a signal from the Eminent Commander.]

It is meet, at such a time, that we should be silent, and let the words of the Infinite and Undying speak, that we may gather consolation from His revelations, and impress upon our minds lessons of wisdom and instruction and the meetness of preparation for the last great change which must pass upon us all.

Let us be reverently attentive while Sir Knight, our Prelate, reads to us a lesson from the Holy Scriptures.

Captain-General. 1. Commandery, 2. Attention.

Prelate. Help, Lord! for the faithful fail from among the children of men.

Response. Help us, O Lord!

Prelate. The righteous cry, and the Lord heareth, and delivereth them out of all their troubles.

Response. Hear us, O Lord!

Prelate. The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart, and saveth such as be of a contrite spirit.

Response. Be nigh unto us, O Lord!

Prelate. The Lord redeemeth the souls of His servants ; and none of them that trust in Him shall be desolate.

Response. Redeem us, O Lord !

Prelate. For I will not trust in my bow, neither shall my sword save me.

Response. Redeem us, O Lord !

Prelate. But God will redeem my soul from the power of the grave ; for He shall receive me.

Response. Redeem us, O Lord !

Prelate. Wilt Thou show wonders to the dead ? Shall the dead arise and praise Thee ? Shall Thy loving kindness be declared in the grave, or Thy faithfulness in destruction ?

Response. Save us, O Lord !

Prelate. We spend our years as a tale that is told. The days of our years are threescore years and ten ; and if, by reason of strength, they be fourscore years, yet is their strength, labor and sorrow, for it is soon cut off and we fly away. So teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom.

Response. Teach us, O Lord !

Prelate. For He knoweth our frame ; He remembereth that we are dust. As for man, his days are as grass ; as a flower of the field, he flourisheth. For the wind passeth over it, and it is gone ; and the place thereof shall know it no more. But the mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear Him.

Response. Show mercy, O Lord !

Prelate. We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump ; for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed. For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality. So, when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written. Death is swallowed up in victory. O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?

Response. O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?

Prelate. The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law. But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Response. Thanks be to God!

Eminent Commander. Shall the memory of our departed brother fade from among men?

Response. It is cherished in our souls forever.

Eminent Commander. Shall no record be left of his virtues and worth?

Response. It is inscribed upon our hearts; it is written in our archives: the heart may cease to throb, and the archives may molder and decay, but the tablets of the recording angel on high can never perish.

[The Recorder here opens the Book of Records of the Commandery, on which a page is set apart, suitably inscribed, and says:]

Recorder. Thus it is written.

[The Knights bow their heads.]

Eminent Commander. He was a true and courteous Knight, and has fallen in life's struggle full Knightly with his armor on, prepared for Knightly deeds.

Prelate. Rest to his ashes, and peace to his soul!

Response. Rest to his ashes, and peace to his soul!

Prelate. Sovereign Ruler of the Universe! into Thy hands we devoutly and submissively commit the departed spirit.

Response. Thy will be done, O God!

[Choir renders an appropriate selection of music; but when there are other ceremonies, music here should be omitted.]

Prelate makes the following prayer, or an extemporaneous one if preferred. The prayer may be made by a clergyman if desirable.

Father of Lights, in this dark and trying hour of calamity and sorrow, we humbly lift our hearts to Thee. Give us, we pray, that light which cometh down from above. Thou hast mercifully said in Thy Holy Word that the bruised reed thou wouldst not break; remember in mercy, O Lord, these bereaved ones now before Thee. Be Thou, at this hour, the Father of the fatherless, and the widow's God. Administer to them the consolations which they so sorely need. Cause us to look away from these sad scenes of frail mortality to the hopes which lie beyond the grave, and bind us yet closer together in the ties of brotherly love and affection. While we see how frail is man, and how uncertain the continuance of our lives upon the earth, and are reminded of our own mortality, lead us, by Thy grace and spirit, to turn our thoughts to those things which make for our everlasting peace; and give us a frame of mind to make a proper improvement of all the admonitions of Thy providence, and fix our thoughts more devotedly on Thee, the only sure refuge in time of need. And at last, when our earthly pilgrimage shall be ended, "when the silver cord shall be loosed and the golden bowl be broken," wilt Thou, O God, in that moment of mortal extremity, be indeed Immanuel—Christ with us; may the "lamp of Thy love" dispel the gloom of the dark valley, and we be enabled by the commendations of Thy Son to gain admission into the blessed Asylum above; and in thy glorious presence, amidst its ineffable mysteries, enjoy a union with the spirits of the departed, perfect as is the happiness of heaven, and durable as the eternity of God. Amen.

Response. Amen and Amen.

[Choir renders an appropriate selection of music.]

Prelate. Sir Knights, there is one sacred spot upon the earth where the footfalls of our march are unheeded; our trumpets quicken no pulse and incite no fear; the rustling of our banners and the gleam of our swords awaken no emotion. [It is the silent city of the dead, to which another of our number is now to be borne.*] Awe rests upon every heart, and the stern warrior's eyes are bedewed with tears which never shame his manhood. It needs no siege, nor assault, nor beleaguering host to enter its walls; we fear no sortie, and listen for no battle shout. No Warder's challenge greets the ear, nor do we wait awhile with patience for permission to enter.

Hither must we all come at last; and the stoutest heart and the manliest form that surrounds me will then be led a captive, without title or rank, in the chains of mortality and the habiliments of slavery, to the King of Terrors. But if he has been faithful to the Captain of his salvation, a true soldier of the Cross; if he has offered suitable gifts at the shrine of his departed Lord, and bears the signet of the Lion of the tribe of Judah, then may he claim to be of that princely house and to be admitted to audience with the Sovereign Master of Heaven and Earth. Then will he be stripped of the chains of earthly captivity and clothed in a white garment, glistening as the sun, and be seated with princes and rulers, and partake of a libation, not of death and sorrow, but of that wine which is drank forever new in the Father's kingdom above.

We cannot come here without subdued hearts and softened affections. Often as the challenge comes which takes from our side some loved associate, some cherished companion-in-arms, and often as the trumpet sounds its wailing notes to summon us to the death bed and the brink of the sepulchre, we cannot contemplate "the last of earth" unmoved. Each successive death-note snaps some fibre which binds us to this lower existence, and makes us pause and reflect upon that dark and gloomy chamber where we must all terminate our pilgrimage. Well will it be for our peace then if we can wash our hands, not only in token of sincerity, but of every guilty stain, and give honest and satisfactory answers to the questions required.

*When the service is given at the grave, the sentence in brackets is changed to read as follows: It is the silent city of the dead where we now stand.

The sad and solemn scene now before us stirs up these recollections with force and vivid power. He who now slumbers in that last, long, unbroken sleep of death was our brother. With him have we walked the pilgrimage of life, and kept watch and ward together in its vicissitudes and trials. He is now removed from the effect of our praise or censure. That we loved him our presence here evinces, and we remember him in scenes to which the world was not witness, and where the better feelings of humanity were exhibited without disguise. That he had faults is but to repeat what his mortality demonstrates—that he had a human nature, not divine. Over those faults we cast, while living, the mantle of charity; it should, with much more reason, enshroud him in death. We who have been taught to extend the point of charity even to a foe, when fallen, cannot be severe or merciless toward a loved brother.

The memory of his virtues lingers in our remembrance and reflects its shining luster beyond the portals of the tomb. The earthen vase which has contained precious odors will lose none of its fragrance, though the clay be broken and shattered. So be it with our brother's memory.

[Junior Warden steps forward and presents the sword to the Eminent Commander.]

Eminent Commander. Our departed brother Sir Knight was taught, while living, that this sword, in his hands, as a true and courteous Knight, was endowed with three most estimable qualities: "Its hilt with justice impartial; its blade with fortitude undaunted, and its point with mercy unrestrained." To this lesson, with its deep, emblematical significance, we trust he gave wise heed. He could never grasp it without being reminded of the lively significance of the attributes it inculcated. He has borne the pangs of dissolving nature—may we trust that it was with the same fortitude that he sustained the trials of this passing existence; to his name and memory be justice done, as we hope to receive the like meed ourselves; and may that mercy unrestrained, which is the glorious attribute of the Son of God, interpose in his behalf to admit him to the blessed companionship of saints and angels in the realms of light and life eternal.

Response. Amen and Amen!

[Senior Warden steps forward and presents a cross to the Prelate.]

Prelate. This symbol of faith—the Christian's hope and the Christian's trust—we again place on the breast of our brother, there to remain till the last trumpet shall sound, and earth and sea yield up their dead. Though it may, in the past history of our race, have been perverted, at times, into an ensign of oppression and crime, and wrong; though it may have been made the emblem of fraud, and superstition, and moral darkness, yet its significance still remains as the badge of a Christian warrior. It calls to mind Gethsemane and its sorrowful garden; the judgment-hall of Pilate and the pitiless crown of thorns; Golgotha and Calvary, and their untold agonies, that fallen man might live and inherit everlasting life. If an inspired apostle was not ashamed of the cross, neither should we be; if he gloried in the significance of the truths it shadowed forth, so ought we to rejoice in it as the speaking witness of our reliance beyond the grave. May this hope of the living have been the anchor to the soul of our departed brother—the token to admit him to that peaceful haven “where the wicked cease from troubling, and the weary are at rest.”

Response. Amen and Amen!

[The Prelate then places the cross upon the coffin, and continues:]

Prelate. The sword in our hands is a symbol of the duties we are vowed to fulfill and not an instrument of assault or defense. We claim to exercise practical virtues in the holy bonds of our confraternity, in humble imitation of those renowned knights of the olden time; for there is in this enlightened age innocence to be guarded, widowed hearts to be relieved of their burdens, and orphanage to be protected from the chilly blasts of a wintry world; and to be true and courteous is not limited to any age or clime.

Our brother, whose cold and lifeless remains are about to be committed to the earth, was one of our fraternal band, bound by the same ties and pledged to the same duties. To his bereaved and mourning friends and relatives we have but little worldly consolation to offer, but we do tender them our heartfelt sympathies, and dare to say that He who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb looks down with infinite compassion upon the widow and the fatherless in their hour of desolation; and that the same benevolent Savior who wept tears of sympathy over the grave at Bethany, will enfold within the arms of His love and protection all those who put their trust and confidence in Him.

Response. Amen and Amen!

[The procession will now be formed in accordance with the tactics of the jurisdiction and proceed to the cemetery. During the time the Sir Knights and mourners are passing out and the coffin is being placed in the hearse, the audience remaining seated, the following chanted by the choir would be exceedingly appropriate:]

CHANT.

“Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them; while the sun, or the light, or the moon, or the stars be not darkened, nor the clouds return after the rain; in the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bow themselves, and the grinders cease, because they are few, and those that look out of the windows be darkened, and the doors shall be shut in the streets, when the sound of the grinding is low, and he shall rise up at the voice of the bird, and all the daughters of music shall be brought low; also, when they shall be afraid of that which is high, and fears shall be in the way, and the almond-tree shall flourish, and the grasshopper shall be a burden, and desire shall fail; because man goeth to his long home, and the mourners go about the streets; or ever the silver cord be loosed, or the golden bowl be broken, or the pitcher be broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken at the cistern. Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was, and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it." Eccl. 12: 1-7.

[After arriving at the grave, and the lines are formed and the mourners and friends have taken their places at the foot of the grave, with the Eminent Commander and Prelate at the head and the bearers on either side, the Junior Warden then removes the sword and hat from the coffin, which last will then be lowered into the grave. The Prelate repeats as follows:]

Prelate. "I am the resurrection and the life. He that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live; and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die." To the earth we commit the mortal remains of our deceased brother, as we have already commended his soul to his Creator, with humble submission to Divine Providence. (Here cast some earth on the coffin.) Earth to earth (here cast again), ashes to ashes (here cast more earth), dust to dust, till the morn of the resurrection; when, like our arisen and ascended Redeemer, he will break the bonds of death, and abide the judgment of the great day. Till then, friend, brother, Sir Knight, farewell! Light be the ashes upon thee, and "may the sunshine of heaven beam bright on thy waking!"

Response. Amen, and Amen and Amen!

Sir Knight Companions, let us pray:

Almighty and most merciful God! as it hath pleased Thee to take from our ranks one dear to our hearts, we beseech Thee to bless and sanctify unto us this dispensation of Thy providence. Inspire our hearts with wisdom from on high, that we may glorify Thee in all our ways. May we have Thy divine assistance, O most merciful God! to redeem our misspent time; and in the discharge of the important duties Thou hast assigned us may we be guided by faith and humility, courage and constancy, to perform our allotted pilgrimage acceptably in Thy sight, without asking a remission of years from Thee. And when our career on earth is finished, and the sepulchre appointed for all the living receives our mortal bodies, may our souls, disengaged from their cumbrous dust, enjoy that rest which Thou hast prepared for Thy good and faithful servants in Thy blessed Asylum above.

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us; and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil, for Thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory forever and ever. Amen.

[Or the Lord's Prayer only may be used.]

Attention, SIR KNIGHTS!

BENEDICTION.

May the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Ghost be and abide with us all evermore. Amen.

[The services being concluded, the Commandery is formed in column and marches to the entrance of the cemetery in silence, or at the tap of the drum.]

And any one of these Commanderies may receive the petition of any duly qualified Royal Arch Mason within said jurisdiction, and act thereon, but waiver of jurisdiction must be obtained from all the Commanderies holding concurrent jurisdiction. Sec. 443. Changing Place of Meeting.—No chartered Commandery shall remove its place of meeting from the city, town or village named in its charter, unless authorized so to do by this Grand Commandery, and no Commandery under dispensation shall make such removal except by special permission from the Grand Commander. (Sec. 159.)

No such authority for removal shall be granted except upon a written petition concurred in by a majority vote of the members present at a Stated Conclave; of which Conclave, and the proposition for removal, all resident members shall have previous notice, and such removal shall be consented to by the Commandery or Commanderies whose jurisdiction may be affected thereby.

Sec. 444. Returns From Commanderies.—Every Commandery under the jurisdiction of this Grand Commandery shall make out and return to the Grand Recorder, a statement showing all the work done—admissions, dismissions, deaths, expulsions, suspensions, reinstatements, etc., from the first day of June to the thirty-first day of May inclusive.

Sec. 451. Grand Commander Orders Read.—The orders of the Right Eminent Grand Commander shall be read by the Recorder, under the direction of the Eminent Commander, the lines being properly formed for that purpose.

Sec. 452. Cities With Two Commanderies.—In any city where there is more than one Commandery, it shall be the duty of the Recorder of each Commandery to give notice in writing to all other Commanderies, situated in such city, of the reception of all petitions for Orders, before ballot thereon, stating the name, occupation, and place of residence of the petitioner.

Sec. 453. Newspaper Notices.—Notice of Conclaves published in newspapers or given by postal card shall not recite the Orders to be conferred, but shall simply and only note business or work.

Sec. 457. New Commanderies.—A dispensation shall not be granted for any new Commandery, unless there are two or more Royal Arch Chapters in the proposed Jurisdiction, nor unless the three officers named in the Dispensation shall be qualified to confer the Orders.

Sec. 458. Consent Required.—But no Dispensation shall be issued without the consent of all Commanderies whose jurisdiction shall be thereby curtailed, and if the new Commandery is to be stationed in a city where there is more than one

Commandery, all of those located in such city must recommend the petition. (Secs. 72, 73.)

Sec. 459. Application for Consent.—All applications for recommendations for dispensations to form new Commanderies, shall be received at a Stated Conclave, made a matter of record, and lie over until the next Stated Conclave, and all resident members of Commanderies interested must be notified of such proposed action.

Sec. 460. Recommendation Unconditional.—The Grand Commandery will not recognize any agreement between a chartered Commandery and a proposed Commandery as to division of territory. The recommendation to form a new Commandery must be unconditional.

Sec. 461. Names in Charter.—No names shall be inserted, as members, in the Charter of a new Commandery, except the names of petitioners and those receiving the Orders therein.

Sec. 462. The officers of a Commandery U.D. cannot be elected or installed, and it cannot be represented in the Grand Commandery: neither can it discipline its members, admit members by affiliation, nor adopt by-laws.

Sec. 463. Naming After Living Person.—No Commandery hereafter chartered shall be named after a living person.

Sec. 464. Read in Commandery.—All petitions for the Orders of Knighthood shall be presented and read in open Commandery, at the Stated Conclave when they are received, and the statement of facts contained in the petition shall be entered in the records of the Commandery.

Sec. 465. Ballot on Each Petition.—A separate ballot shall be taken on each petition for the Orders. At the Conclave when ballot is taken, the petition shall be again read in open Commandery, prior to the spreading of the ballot. Should a petition for the Orders be lost or destroyed after its reception by the Commandery, no ballot shall be had on such petition, until a duplicate petition, duly signed by the petitioner, is obtained; but such duplicate petition need not lie over for final action beyond the requisite time following reception of original petition.

Sec. 466. A petitioner for the Orders, if rejected, shall not be entitled to any information save that he is rejected; and any Sir Knight who shall communicate to him any information, as to who were present, or who advocated or opposed his admission, shall be subject to charges and upon conviction may be expelled from the Order.

Sec. 467. Fees for Orders, Who Eligible.—No Commandery shall confer the Orders of Knighthood for a less sum than forty dollars, and no Commandery located in the City of Chicago, for a less sum than seventy-five dollars.

Sec. 468. No candidate may sign the By-Laws or become a member of the Commandery who has not lawfully received the Orders of the Red Cross, Knight Templar and Knight of Malta.

Sec. 469. Red Cross.—No Commandery in this Jurisdiction while conferring the Order of the Red Cross, shall permit the journey to be performed by more than one candidate at one and the same time.

Sec. 470. Petition Rejected, Renewal.—Any unaffiliated Knight Templar who has petitioned for membership, and whose petition has been rejected, may renew the said petition to the same or any other Commandery at any subsequent Stated Conclave.

Sec. 471. Discipline.—Offenses Against the Order.—Violation of the laws of God, the laws of the land, the laws of morality, willful violation of the Statutes and Regulations of the Grand Commandery, or the By-Laws of the Commandery are offenses against this Order, and subject the offender, after due trial according to the forms provided by the Grand Encampment, which are hereby declared mandatory, to such punishment as the degree of his offense may warrant.

Sec. 472. Non-Payment of Dues, Trial.—The formalities of written charges may be dispensed with, and proceedings as described herewith shall be deemed due notice and fair trial for the offense of non-payment of dues. Any Sir Knight who may be in arrears to a Commandery, according to the provision of its By-Laws, shall be notified thereof, in writing, by the Recorder, with a request for the payment of the same, at or before some subsequent Conclave of the Commandery; and if said Sir Knight neglect or refuse to make answer to such notice, at or before the time designated therein, he shall be notified in person, if possible, to appear at such subsequent Stated Conclave as may be deemed proper, and show cause why he should not be suspended for non-payment of dues. If his whereabouts be unknown, a written notice shall be addressed to him at his last known place of residence. This shall be deemed due notice, and the Commandery may proceed without his presence. When any Sir Knight shall refuse or neglect to answer the notices prescribed above, his delinquency may be communicated to the Commandery at any Stated Conclave thereof, which facts, together with the Commandery records showing his indebtedness, shall be deemed ample proof of the delinquency. If the Sir Knight be present, he shall be entitled to such pleas as he may deem proper, after which he shall retire, and upon such evidence a vote may be taken upon a motion to suspend the delinquent member indefinitely. A vote of the majority of the members present at a Stated Conclave shall be necessary to fix such penalty. This shall be deemed fair trial. No dues shall accrue against a Sir Knight during the term of his suspension, either from Lodge, Chapter, or Commandery.
